

Holidays and lesson-free periods

During the holidays and lesson-free periods, no lectures or practicals will be held. In some periods other educational activities will take place, such as work placements, presentations, reports, exams, resits and final assessments. For these activities, please also refer to the specific timetable of your course department.

Holiday weeks are determined in line with the guidelines for holiday dates for primary and secondary schools in the South region as set out by the Ministry of Education, Culture and Science.
